VICTIM OF AN ALLEGED CONSPIRACY. MR. BAILEY WAS IN UCED TO ADVANCE ABOUT $10,000 ON JEWELRY.

VICTIM OF AN ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

HOW MR. BAILEY WAS IN. UCED TO ADVANCE ABOUT $10,000 ON JEWELRY.

Before Justice Duffy yesterday afternoon, at the Essex Market Police Court, Philetas S. Bailey, a man of muddle age, of No. 19 West I welfth-si, asserted that he had been the victim of a conspiracy and that he had lest $10,200 since July 10, 1882. The names of the alleged conspirators are I. Pemberton, Philip Clarke and Lorenzi Pollastrini, of No. 775 Broasway, and Charles White. of No. 27 University-place, all of whom have been engaged in dealing in diamonns and jewelry, while occasionally following other occupations. Pemberton, Pollastrini and White were arrested by an officer of the Essex Market Court squad. Clarke, it is said, has disappeared at present. The complainant stated that he mist became acquainted with Clarke through an advertisement published on July 10, 1882, asking for a loan of $500 upon which a liberal bonus would be paid. The applicant gave his name as Clarke and his place of business as at No. 775 Broadway. Through him Bailey subsequently became acquainted with James Murthead and Mr. Simpson, a pawneroker, and other alleged conspirators. Clarke represented himself as a dealer in diamonds and jewelry and said that he was in immediate need of money. Clarke and Bailey called at Pemberton's office, No. 775 Broadway, where it was stated that the security offered consisted of some fine jewelry and some pawn-tickets for gooss pledged for their full value. On August 14, $200, en September 4, $1,200, and on September 19, $1,500, were advanced by Bailey on statements made by Clarke, which were varified by Pemberton. A diamond bracelet of the value of $2,500 was taken as security for the last loan.

Soon after this some of this jewelry was obtained from the complainant on the pretence that a purchaser had made an offer for it, but on the following day Clarke asked permission to put it in pawn for $500, and eventually set $450 upon it. On October 30 Bailey made another for it, but on the following as col to take legal proceedings, and a civil suit was begin. Dissatisfied with its rediousness Bailey sought redress in a criminal court.

Mr. Purdy appeared for the prosecution, and the defence was conducted by Peter Mitchell. The prisoners deny many of the allegations of the complaint or qualify mem by saying that they were merely incidents in business transactions still pending, of which only an exparte account is presented in the affidavit of Bailey. Pemberton was permitted to go on his own recognizance and the promise of his counsel that he would appear when required. Pollastrini has been admitted to bail in $2,000, and White was also required to give bonds in $2,000. The examination was set down for Monday next at the Jefferson Market Poice Court.

SHOOTING HIS SISTER FOR FUN.

SHOOTING HIS SISTER FOR FUN.

Mrs. Henry Kline, of Carl Place, near Westbury,
L. I., went to the store at the latter place yesterday to purchase some household articles, leaving the house in charge of her son, a lad ten years of age.
With the boy were his two sisters eight and six years old.

Mrs. Kline had hardly got cut of sight of the house before the boy took his eldest sister, and placing her in the middle of the floor in the kitchen, told her that he was going to have some fun. He then took his father's gun, which was loaded with sings, and taking deliberate aim, shot at her. Formanately just as the boy was about to shoot the child turned partially around to see what he was going to do, and the slugs passed through the fleshy part of her right shoulder, indicting a terrible flesh wound.
After shooting the girl he took her into the bedroom, washed the wounds and changed her dress.
He then told her that when her mother entered sho must tell her that she had failen in the road and cut herself with a plece of glass.

After washing the powder siains from the wall the boy walked to the bease of Dr. Skinner, at Mincola, and saked the doctor to go home with 1 in to see his sister who had cut herself badly by falling upon a piece of glass. The physician accombanced him bome and at once saw that the wounds had been inflicted by slugs shot from a gun or pistol.
After much persmasion the wounded child told the story of the shooting. Her recovery is combtini.

Baptiste Bogner, a young Bavarian laborer, who boards at No. 538 West Forty-seventh-st., went to Police Headquarters yesterday to seek aid in Searching for a young countrywoman, Sophie Grunder, who is missing. She had been in this city less than a year, and for a time she boarded in the same house with Bogner. Recently she had been employed by a family named Meyer in Sixty-fourth-st., near Third ave. On Thursday a week ago she went to the boarding-house to get some clothing which she had left there, and at 9 p. m. started to return to her place of employment. She has not been seen by any of her acquaintances since then. On Friday Bautster received an affectionate letter from her, which filled him with alarm. A portion of the letter read as follows:

I take up my pen with tears to let you know that I am living, but not abid to come to you on account of sickness. When I left you that ingut to go to sixty-fourth-st., and when I had crossed exthave, a young man came up to me and assanied me. Since then I have been in the hospital. Dear Engitiste, I had such a terrible fright and it nearly killed me. I shall never forgive you that you dd not go with me to the car that night. I am glad that I had my picture taken before, as now Hook so bad that you would not know me. The dector says I will never more get up and I am content to die.

will never more get up and I am content to die.

The tetter contained no information about the hospital where the young woman was staying. Baptiste searched all the public hospitals in the upper part of the city, but could not get any trace of her. It is thought by the police that the young woman is in some disorderly house, believing it to be a respectable hospital.

THE BROKER TAKES ALL THE MONEY.

On a warrant cherging him with obtaining $500 by means of false representations Henry A. Darrow, a real estate broker, of No. 67 Richmond Terrace, Staten Island, and having an office at No. 7 State-st., was taken yesterday to the Tombs Police Court. On October 21, 1879, the prisoner entered into negotiations with William Fogarty, a grocer, at No. 3 Bridge-st., for the sale of land at Water-st; and Trinity-place, West Brighton. Darrow says that he was acting by authority of Mrs. Flynn, a resident of Staten Island, to whom the real estate belonged. It was agreed that the prisoner should sell the property to Fogarty for $4,300; $500 of this was paid. Subsequently Mrs. Flynn informed Forgarty that she had never given the prisoner the power that he assumed. Darrow, who is sixty-eight years of age and has for many years been in the real estate business, as-erts that she did. He acknowledges having received the $500. He avers, however, that he was entitled to $300 of this as commission. The remaining sum, he says, he expended, having met with reverses, though he maintains that his actions were strictly homorable. He furnished bail in the sum of $1,500. THE BROKER TAKES ALL THE MONEY.

CASEY, THE MURDERER, A WRECK. Officer Patrick Casey, of the Long Island City Police, who shot and killed Roundsman Comisky, at the Hunter's Point Police Station, on Sunday, was taken before Justice Delehanty at the Queens County Jail vesterday afternoon and committed to County Jail vesterday afternoon and committed to await the result of the Coroner's inquest. Casey appeared very downcast while before the justice. The proceedings were in Sherill Furman's office, and among those present were Police Commissioner Appleton and County Treasurer Baldwin. The prisoner did not have any counsel in attendance. He recognized several members of the police force standing near and wished them "good atternoon" in a low tone of voice, but beyond that he did not after a word. He looked perfectly wretched as he left the room. He is suffering from a severe cold and has a hollow cough, his face has lost its ruddy hue, and his nerves seem completely shattered. His handshook as with the agae while the justice read the complaint, which charges him with "wilful, delibs erate and bremeditated marder." Casey has eater, little since his arrest. His wife visited him on Monday evening and yesterday, and at her earnest selicitation he ate a light meal.

The Committee on Ferries and Franchises vesterday presented a report to the Board of Aldermen granting a franchise to the New-York Electric Lines Company to lay wires under the streets of the city provided that the company shall not transfer or dispose of the franchise and that it shall make up discrimination between individuals or corporations in the rental and use of its lines. It is stipulated that the city shall have the option after January 1, 1885, of requiring the company to pay into the city treasury 2 per cent of its gross receipts annually from the rental of its wires in lieu of the gift to the city of two wires in e ch line of conductors as provided in the general ordinance, and Mr. Wells said that the scheme was so vast that due deliberation should be accorded it. After a good deal of argament the proposed ordinance was passed by a vote of 21 to 3, those in the negative being Aldermen O'Conor, Wells and Sheehy.

CENSURING WESTCHESTER JUSTICES.

The Grand Jury of Westchester County, which, under direction of Justice J. O. Dykman, of the Supreme Court, has been investigating the alleged improper commitments to the County Jail of tramps and vagrants, yesterday made its presentment. It is stated that from November 15, 1882, to February 15, 1883, Justices Henderson Kendall, Connolly, Bird and Baxter committed 367 persons. Of this number there were only 215 cases where the proper certificates were on file. The care of these 367 vagrants, fees to the justices, etc., cost the town and county $8.856 in the three mouths, which might have been largely reduced by commitments to the County Almshouse. The Grand Jury declares that where the vagrants were not notorious offenders the justices who sent them to the County Jail violated the law and should be held accountable therefor. The Grand Jury also recommends more work for the in.nates of the County Jail and the erection of a workhouse in connection with the County Poor House.

The basement, he said, was used as a gambing-house, and the Board of Health and no jurisdiction in the matter. He was teld that the Chinamen must comply with the rules of health or suffer the consequences.

A well-known Presbyterian ciergyman of one of the lower Deiaware counties, somewhat famous as a wil, was approached by a staptist ciergyman with the question: "Well, be other, were going to have a new bell for our church. What sort would you recommend?" There was a twokle behind the Presbyterian p.rson's glasses, and he answered promptly, "By all means, a giving bell."
